In light of the continuing public health emergency in New York State, commencing with the September 2020 Term and until further notice, the Appellate Division, First Department will hold oral arguments in-person at the courthouse and remotely via Microsoft Teams. Additionally, the Court will be holding oral arguments four days per week -- on Tuesdays, Wednesday and Thursdays at 2:00 p.m. and on Friday mornings at 10:00 a.m.

Oral arguments will be held in-person every Wednesday and remotely on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

Requests for Oral Argument. Commencing with the September 2020 Term and continuing until further notice, requests for oral argument, whether in-person or remote, shall be made in advance in all matters, no later than one week prior to the calendar date, by emailing the Court at AD1OralArgument@nycourts.gov, with an e-mailed copy to opposing counsel or self-represented litigant. A completed notice of appearance with the contact information, including e-mail address, of the attorney who will appear remotely, shall be attached to the request.

If an out-of-state attorney has been granted leave to appear pro hac vice, a notice of appearance is required for both the New York attorney of record and the out-of-state attorney, together with a copy of the letter from the Court granting the pro hac vice application.

When making an oral argument request, please indicate the name of the matter, the argument date, the appellate case number and the time needed for oral argument, not the time desired. Parties will be advised as to whether the Court has granted oral argument. The request should not be made until a matter has been calendared for a particular term and date. As customary, oral arguments will be livestreamed on the Court's website. Only counsel and self-represented litigant who are arguing will be permitted to enter the courthouse or attend the remote oral arguments.
