MAURA R. GROSSMAN

Maura R. Grossman joined Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz as an associate in the Litigation Department in 1999, and was appointed Counsel in 2007. Ms. Grossman has represented Fortune 100 companies and leading financial services institutions in corporate and securities litigation, including both civil actions and white collar criminal and regulatory investigations. For the past several years, Ms. Grossman has focused exclusively on advising lawyers and clients on legal, technical, and strategic issues involving electronic discovery and information management, as well as on matters of legal ethics.

Ms. Grossman graduated with an A.B., magna cum laude, from Brown University. She received an M.A. and Ph.D. in Clinical/School Psychology from Adelphi University, and a J.D., magna cum laude, Order of the Coif, from the Georgetown University Law Center. While at The Georgetown University Law Center, Ms. Grossman served as Executive Notes and Comments Editor of the Georgetown Law Journal.

Ms. Grossman is a member of The Sedona Conference® Working Group 1 on Best Practices for Electronic Document Retention and Production, and Working Group 6 on International Electronic Information Management, Discovery, and Disclosure. As a member of Working Group 1, she has been involved in editing the forthcoming publication, Commentary on Achieving Quality Control Over E-Discovery: A Primer on Project Management, Methods & Metrics. Ms. Grossman is also participating in Sedona Conference initiatives to provide state judicial education on electronic discovery, and is Co-Team Leader of the new Toolkit Development Team for Volunteer Mediators/Court-Annexed ADR. Ms. Grossman served as a Topic Authority in the Legal Track of the National Institute of Standards and Technology's (NIST's) 2008 Text Retrieval Conference (TREC), studying the use of automated information retrieval technology to meet the needs of the legal community in responding to the growing demands of electronic discovery. Finally, she also is an active member of Association of the Bar of the City of New York's Committee on Professional and Judicial Ethics. Ms. Grossman is a frequent speaker in the areas of electronic discovery and legal ethics.
